   o In the print settings, choose your printer and ensure the paper type is set to Labels or Glossy Paper if available.

   o Select the correct label template for Avery 2317 if your printer or design software has it.

   o Print a test page on regular paper to ensure alignment.

4. Check and Print:

   o Once you are satisfied with the test print, print your labels on the Avery 2317 sheets.

   o Allow the labels to dry completely before handling to avoid smudging.

5. Cut Out Labels:

   o Carefully cut out each spice label using scissors or a paper cutter.

   o Apply the cut labels to your spice jars as needed.

If you're unsatisfied with your test print, try printing on full label sticker sheets and cutting them with a paper cutter for improved results.
